

Congratulations on your engagement!

Thank you for considering Knox-Metropolitan United for your wedding. We are honoured and can't wait to discuss the details with you.

Our large sanctuary is over 100 years old and its architecture is awe inspiring. The beautiful stained glass windows, pipe organ and balcony make for an intimate and beautiful space to exchange your vows.

Knox-Met's minister will meet with you and build a service that is full of joy and meaning. Your distinctive and unique ideas are welcome here.

We want to make your ceremony special for you, while also highlighting this important sacrament built on cherishing love between two people.

Knox-Met United is known for our music. There is a concert grand piano in the sanctuary as well as one of the largest pipe organs on the prairies. The Musical Director typically provides the music for weddings and this cost is included in the rental fee.

Another unique gift Knox-Met has to offer is our tower bells. If you wish (and the weather permits) bell ringers may be available to share the joy of your wedding by ringing the tower bells as your guests are leaving the church.

Frequently Asked Questions....

Do I (or my partner) need to be a member with Knox-Met?

No. Membership with Knox-Met is not required.

How many people can fit in your church?

We can accommodate groups from 5 to 941.

Will you perform same gender marriages?

Yes! We celebrate the gift of love! Knox-Met United welcomes same gender couples to our congregation, and is pleased to perform same gender marriages.

Do I (or my partner) need to be Christian to be married at Knox-Met?

While we believe that marriage is a sacred covenant, we understand that many people do not hold membership in a particular faith. Knox-Met is a beautiful space that many—even those outside of the Christian tradition—want to celebrate in. Christian symbols may be present in the sanctuary, but discuss your preferences with our minister when you begin planning.

What if I want someone else to play music at my wedding?

We are lucky to have a very talented and experienced Music Director. You will have the opportunity to meet with him, discuss your ceremony details and pick music. Including other musicians—as accompanists or soloists—is possible, however it will not reduce the cost of holding your wedding at Knox-Met.

Are you open to creative ceremonies?

Yes! We are very open to creative and thoughtful ceremonies and are well known for our care and support. We will help you create a one-of-a-kind ceremony that will be remembered.

Knox-Met's Sanctuary is historic, bright and spacious,

Can we have an outdoor ceremony?

Yes! We are flexible. Please contact us to discuss further.

Can we decorate the sanctuary?

The Knox-Met sanctuary has a lot of natural beauty, however flowers or candles can certainly add to its beauty. If you have other ideas for decorations, please discuss this with us.

What about photographers and videos during the service?

We welcome photographers and videographers, and have ideas where they can shoot from based on the hundreds of weddings we have hosted over the years. In addition, we ask that they introduce themselves to the Minister at rehearsal or prior to the ceremony.

Can we host our reception at the church?

Our lower hall can be made available for a reception tea (at an extra cost), however our space is not set up for hosting dances or events requiring a liquor license.

What is the cost of hosting a wedding at Knox-Met?

The fee to host your wedding with us is $975.

This fee includes:

- Meetings with our Minister to plan your ceremony
- Meeting with our Music Director to select music
- Access to the sanctuary in advance for decorating
- A full rehearsal
- The ceremony!!
- Filing your marriage paperwork with the province
- Clean up by our caretaking staff
- Ringling of the tower bells ($40 extra fee)

A $350 deposit is required to hold your dates. The remaining fee is due 1 week before your ceremony
